Brownbag Webinar : Geographic Mobility and the Intergenerational Transmission of Income in Québec

 Thursday, January 18, 2024

Organized in collaboration with the Quebec inter-university centre for social statistics (QICSS) and the Canadian Research Data Centre Network, this seminar will be an opportunity for authors Marie Connolly, Xavier St-Denis and Yacine Boujjja to present in English and to a larger audience the analyses and results of a recent CIRANO study on social mobility. This study is the first to examine the influence of geographic mobility on intergenerational income transmission in Quebec. This seminar is part of an effort to highlight the work being done at CIRANO across Canada. By partnering with the Canadian Research Data Centre Network, CIRANO aims to ensure greater visibility for the work and expertise of its researchers.

Healthcare financing webinar: learning from Morocco's experience with activity-based pricing

 Monday, January 22, 2024

In the context of healthcare administration in France, Morocco and Quebec, there is a great deal of interest in the classification of diagnoses into homogeneous groups, known as diagnosis related group (DRG). This webinar, co-organized by CIRANO, the Unité de Santé Internationale (USI) of the Université de Montréal and the École de santé publique de l'Université de Montréal (ESPUM), will provide an opportunity to learn more about these management systems and how they are applied, particularly in the context of the implementation of fee-for-service in Quebec. Dr. Philippe Michel and Dr. Houcine Akhnif, specialists in this field, will present their

Conditional release, social reintegration and criminal recidivism

 Monday, February 5, 2024

In Quebec, offenders sentenced to more than six months are eligible for parole once they have served one-third of their sentence. About half of eligible offenders choose to waive their right to attend a parole hearing. Why? During this seminar, authors Guy Lacroix (Université Laval, CIRANO) and William Arbour (Université de Montréal) will present the analyses and results of a recent CIRANO study that identifies the key determinants of the choice to waive parole hearings and examines the causal effect of parole on recidivism.
